Overview:

The TAU 1-A is the first mech that is constructed and build by the Taurus Concordat. The Capellan Confederation supply Taurus Territorial Industries with armor, engine and the primary wappons. The communications, target and tracking systems and SRM would be delivered from the House Kurita.

Capabilities:

The LBX AC and ER-Largelaser would be able to open the fire on distance. The whole power is in action at moderate range, with his very good heatmanagment in can be fired all weapons over long time. Again the Clans the chassis is improved with Ferro-Fibrous armor.

Deployment:

At time the only Taurus is known is the prototyp at Taurus Territorial Industries, because this there's no experience about the fighting strength. The Concordat is proude about the TAU 1-A and confident in the strength of this Mech.
